THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: "The mother-child relationship is paradoxical and, in a sense, tragic. It requires the most intense love on the mother's side, yet this very love must help the child grow away from the mother and to become fully independent."

A special note of thanks to all students, staff, and parents who helped to make the Mexican teachers' visit a memorable experience. They extend their gratefulness and hope to be able to send more teachers and students next year. Thank you to all for your help, warmth, and support to these visitors. - Judy Reynolds

The National Association of the Deaf (NAD) Legal Defense Fund has won another major victory in its fight to protect the legal rights of deaf and hard of hearing Americans. In the first case of its kind, a federal court judge ruled last week that school districts must provide sign language interpreters at school-sponsored events involving the children of deaf parents.

This precedent setting case involved the Rothschild family of New York's Ramapo Central School District. While the Rothschild parents, Ken and Karen, are deaf, their children are not. Since the early 1980s, the Rotschilds had been asking their school district to provide a sign language interpreter for parent-teacher conferences and other school related activities involving their children.

Ramapo Central School district had claimed it did not have to provide interpreters because Karen and Kenneth were parents, not students. However, his opinion, Judge Gerard Goettel fuled, "School-sponsored activities that ar designed for parental involvement and are focused on the student's academic or disciplinary progress" must be made available to the hearing impaired.

For more information regarding this case or the NAD Legal Defense Fund, contact Attorney Marc Charmatz: 202-651-5373 (V/TDD). With 22,000 members and 50 affiliated state associations, the NAD is the largest and oldest consumer organization of disabled persons in the United States. The NAD works to improve products and services available to America's 21 million deaf and hard of hearing people.

On Wednesday May 16, there will be a "Picture This" program presented to Family Life Classes in the Vocational Library at 8:50 a.m.

IN HONOR OF MOTHERS DAY:

Mother: -
She gave you life,
helped choose your name,
She watched you grow
and took the blame
when you did wrong.

Mother: -
She dried your tears,
she washed your clothes,
She helped you cope with them and those,
and went along.

Mother: -
When it came time
to cut the string,
She let you go
to do your thing,
and hid her tears.

Mother: -
Still, on her day
we gather 'round
To share the love that we have found
can last for years.
